PGPD Issues Warning on Fentanyl

The Prince George's County Police Department (PGPD) has begun recovering fentanyl-laced, blue-toned pills with a distinct "M" emblem. These pills are linked to multiple suspected overdoses, including two fatal overdoses. The PGPD urges residents to avoid taking medication not prescribed to them by a medical professional and urges parents and guardians to talk to their children about this danger.

Nominate an Outstanding Educator for The Washington Post Principal and Teacher of the Year Awards

Each year, The Washington Post recognizes an outstanding principal and teacher from the Washington region. The Principal of the Year Award recognizes principals who go above and beyond to create exceptional academic environments in their schools. The Teacher of the Year Award recognizes teachers who exemplify excellence in their profession.

PGCPS selects one nominee to represent the school district in the regional competition to be named finalist for The Washington Post Principal of the Year and The Washington Post Teacher of the Year awards. Winners will be announced in mid-April. For details, visit The Washington Post's awards webpage.

Email nomination packets to communications@pgcps.org (the Office of Communications) by Friday, Jan. 13, 2023. Do not send packets directly to The Washington Post.
