

April 10, 2008

Scholar of the Week: Laurel HS Senior Anthony Villaflores

Quick Facts

Grade: 12

School: Laurel High School

GPA: 3.9 cumulative, 4.29 current

Academics: AP Literature, AP American Government, AP Language, AP World History, AP Calculus, IB Art, National Honor Society

Extra Curricular Activities: Tutor (during the school lunch period)

Future Goals: Plans to pursue a degree in Illustration and Animation at Maryland Institute College of Art.

Interesting Notes: Through his art, Anthony has beautified the Laurel HS campus by painted the benches outside the school, painting a mural in the Career Center, decorating the Junior Hall, and decorating the Senior Hall. He also designed the "Senior Graduate T-Shirt". His chalk painting was featured in The Washington Post when he was in the fifth grade and his "Shoe Illustration" was shown in the Maryland Gallery. Anthony has travelled to the United Kingdom as a student ambassador with the People to People program.