BRADBURY HEIGHTS STUDENTS SHARE HEALTHY STRATEGIES FOR NATIONAL SCHOOL BREAKFAST WEEK

WHO: Donna Hathaway Beck, At-Large Board Member, Prince George’s County Board of Education
Patricia Fletcher, Board Member (District 3), Prince George’s County Board of Education
Karyn Lynch, Chief for Student Services, Prince George’s County Public Schools
Briana Webster-Patterson, Relationship Manager, Alliance for a Healthier Generation
Bradbury Heights Elementary School fifth-grade students and staff

WHAT: National School Breakfast Week Celebration

WHEN: Thursday, March 11, 2010 • 7:25-8:30 a.m.

WHERE: Bradbury Heights Elementary School • Cafeteria
1401 Glacier Avenue, Capitol Heights

BACKGROUND:

Prince George’s County Public Schools (PGCPS) will host a celebration of National School Breakfast Week with fifth-grade students at Bradbury Heights Elementary School. Nearly 80 students will take part in a fun event to learn about the importance of good nutrition and exercise through hands-on and physical activities led by staff from the Alliance for a Healthier Generation, the school district’s Healthy Schools program partner.

Bradbury Heights Elementary School students are already active participants in the Healthy Schools program, and all students eat a healthy breakfast together in their classrooms each morning as part of the Maryland State Department of Education’s (MSDE) School Breakfast Program.

-30-